Kahoot!'s history

Kahoot! was founded in 2012 by Morten Versvik, Johan Brand, and Jamie Brooker who, in a joint project with the Norwegian University of Science and Technology (NTNU), teamed up with Professor Alf Inge Wang, and were later joined by entrepreneur Åsmund Furuseth.

The technology is based on research conducted by Kahoot! co-founder Morten Versvik, a student of Professor Wang's at the time, for his Master's degree at NTNU.

Kahoot! has raised over $500 million in total funding from Softbank, Northzone, Creandum, M12 (formerly Microsoft Ventures), Datum Group, Accelerator Investments LLC (owned by Walt Disney Company), and Norwegian and international investors. Kahoot! began trading on the Oslo Stock Exchange main list on March 18, 2021, after being listed on Euronext Growth on October 10, 2019.

Kahoot! can be played in many ways:

Through live games where the host launches a kahoot quiz on a larger screen and participants answer questions through a simple browser-based interface or the Kahoot! mobile app, either in a physical setting or virtually over video conference.

Through challenges sent by host to users to be played at their own pace in the Kahoot! iOS or Android mobile app or on the web.

Through self-study mode in the Kahoot! mobile app. Kahoot! Study, a self-study mode in the app is perfect for engaging individual study and study groups in different locations.
